Who is Level 4?

Level 4 is comprised of a special group of construction experts. Our leadership team alone has more than 120 years of experience related to commercial construction. Organically grown, our heritage is in building construction and long-term ownership. This pedigree gives us a unique perspective in how we present to our customers. As a result, our partners and clients often view us as their advocate and stakeholder for the best long-term outcomes.

We prefer high levels of collaboration and synergy in our relationships; these traits are our differentiators. Decision makers can trust us based on our reputation in the community.

We enjoy the challenges that come with commercial construction. Every day is different. We get up early and go to bed late; putting our customers first.

What's in Our Name?

We believe that our customers look to us to steward their projects within four distinct categories:

ON-POINT: Our customers want us to take the lead.

ON-TIME: Job deadlines must be carefully curated and met.

ON-BUDGET: Stakeholders trust us to keep their project within the financial parameters previously set and agreed to.

ON-PURPOSE: Keeping our customers' dreams and vision front and center is invaluable and provides the North Star for every project.
